CHURCH FOR A DIFFERENT WORLD

God of Harvest, make us thankful,
generous and caring people

Just a selection of the things for which we give thanks at harvest time.

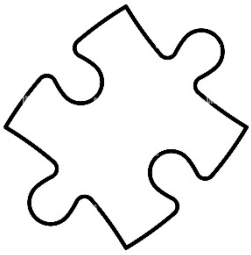

Springside School thank God for his goodness

Our piece

In August I spoke in Manchester Cathedral about the jigsaw pieces members of Mothers' Union had been making and the thinking behind the project. It occurred to me that much of what I wrote is just as relevant to us in the Church.

As we thought about how to celebrate 150 years of Mothers' Union across the Diocese, we wanted a theme that could bring us all together, in which everyone could take part, with individual contributions joining to create something much bigger. Then someone suggested jigsaw pieces.

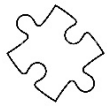

A jigsaw also shows beautifully what we in the Church are about. Every piece is different. Some may seem insignificant on their own, but every piece has a place, every piece matters, and without it the picture is incomplete. That is true of us. We are all pieces of the Church's jigsaw, with different gifts, experiences and stories. We belong to different congregations and communities, yet we fit together as one body.

There is another aspect which is important: we may be the missing piece in someone else's jigsaw.

Think of the Christians who have quietly made a difference to your life: a Sunday School teacher who helped you understand God's love; a grandparent who prayed for you; a friend who was there when you needed them; a priest who encouraged you at a particular moment in your life. They may never have realised how important their piece was.

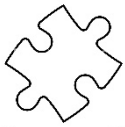

Perhaps you are that piece for someone else. Think of the people whose lives are touched by the Church: a family moving into the area welcomed and supported; a lift to a group meeting, a meal prepared with love for a grieving neighbour, a visit to someone who has spoken to no-one else since church on Sunday.

Each may seem a small act—a single jigsaw piece—but it can bring comfort, offer dignity, provide hope. It can remind someone that they are not alone. That is what faith in action looks like.

In Manchester we had more than 40 jigsaw pieces on display, celebrating our history, our worldwide links, our communities, our projects and the many ways we serve.

Every piece is different, just as each of us is different. Yet together they tell one story: people putting their faith into practice through prayer, action and service.

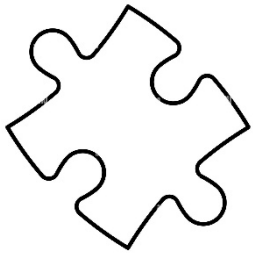

When you begin a jigsaw, you start with one piece. Then another is added, and slowly a picture emerges. The work of the Church is like that: one prayer, one conversation, one visit, one helping hand, one act of kindness. Piece joins piece until something larger takes shape.

We may never see the whole picture. We may never know what happened because of a prayer, a visit or a small kindness. We may never see how far the ripple travelled.

But God does. He sees every piece, how each fits together, and the picture we cannot yet see.

When ordinary people respond to God's extraordinary love, lives are touched, hope is renewed and communities are transformed. For years, the Church has made a difference because faithful people have continued to say "yes" to God — people just like us.

So perhaps the question is not simply, "Where does my piece fit?" It is also, "Whose jigsaw might need my piece?" Let us continue to pray, serve and be that missing piece in someone else's life.

Because together, with God at the centre, we may continue to build the picture of His love for generations to come.

- Join us on Sunday 8th November at 10.30 am in both churches, as we remember all who served from these parishes.
- Following the service at St. John with St. Mark a wreath will be laid at St Mark's.
- At 10.50am on Wednesday 11th November, in Christ Church churchyard, where there are a number of war graves, we shall gather to mark the 11th hour, with a short act of remembrance, hoping that any who pass by may pause for a minute too.
- In the churchyard at Christ Church, 'Church in the Open' will again this November offer the opportunity for those walking through to pause and reflect.

ADVENT SUNDAY

We begin the season of Advent with a United Benefice Holy Communion service at St. John with St. Mark on Sunday 29th November at 10.30am.

A Book of Common Prayer service will take place at 9.00am
at Christ Church

and in the evening, Sunday@Seven's theme is
"He will be back!"
meeting in the Hall at Christ Church

* Contributions for the magazine are always welcome. Please send to wrub@live.co.uk or contact Barbara Taylor or David Robinson. The deadline for the December/January issue will be 14th November. Please think ahead to the new year as this edition will cover two months. It is intended to run Christmas greetings in this edition, for a donation to charity. Please consider if you would like to include one and send it by mid November.

* Thank you to everyone who supported the Harvest Lunch. We enjoyed a bowl of homemade soup, with a bread roll, followed by apple pie and ice cream. Thank you to Asda and Tesco for providing rolls and apple pies, and to the hardworking team, led by Jennifer and Lillian, who enabled it all to happen.

* A huge thank you also for all the donations received at our Harvest services. Porch Boxes gratefully appreciated them and there were so many from both churches they almost didn't fit in Nigel's car!

* If you are a regular attender at our churches and are not on the Electoral Roll, please consider if you would like to join. This can be done by filling in a simple form. Please get in touch with our Electoral Roll officers or Wardens if you wish to join and are not currently on the roll, or want to check whether you are on.

* Each year our churches deliver Christmas (and Easter) cards to as many houses in the benefice as we are able. If you are able and willing to deliver a street (or two!) please make that known. Our outreach can only stretch as far as our willing hands and feet.

* Love your School Fortnight, 1-14 February 2027, is an initiative across our Archdeaconry. To find out more there is a useful information evening on 17th November, 7-9pm. More details on page 22.

- Toy Appeal The annual appeal by Churches Together in Bury is back. This aims to collect new toys to be given to children who may not otherwise have a fun Christmas.
  This year there will be a collection point in the Millgate Centre in addition to The Rock but, of course, our churches are also drop off points.
  There is more information here:
  https://www.waymarker.org.uk/toy-appeal

- Appeal help needed - Are you able to spare even a couple of hours in early to mid December to carry out admin or help receive and sort donations for the neediest of our children?
  Help is especially needed for a morning and/or afternoon, at Seedfield Methodist Church (who have kindly agreed to be a collection and storage point), on Tue 8th, Wed 9th and Thu 10th December. Please let David Robinson or Barbara Taylor know if you can help.

- The annual Churches Together Carol Singing event will be held in the Millgate Centre, on Sunday 6th December. Times are to be confirmed but please put the date in your diary.

- A meeting of the Bury Mission Community is scheduled for Monday 26th October. We will update you with what goes on however it is likely we will discuss events for 2027 including; youth activity (growing younger); litter pick (mission); Easter Vigil and Songs of Praise (worship), Prayer Pilgrimage (Faith in the North) and a quiz (social).

- Paul Kerensa, Christian comedian, will be performing at the Blackburne Hall, Bury Parish Church on Friday, 6 November at 7.30pm. Tickets are £10 from www.buryparishchurch.com/paul-kerensa which also gives a potted bio.

Remembrance

It strikes me that remembering is one of the constants in our lives. We are continually dependent on our ability to remember. We rely on remembrance to conduct our daily lives. It is fundamental to our thought processes – past experiences help us to plan for the future, and our habits are built on memory. Remembrance is not just about looking back.

I have just spent time with Mothers' Union members honouring the memory of Mary Sumner, who founded the movement 150 years ago. It is good to look back at past events and honour those memories, but it is just as important to look forward – to remember, learn from the past and plan for the future based on what has gone before.

At this time of year, we look back with gratitude on those who sacrificed so much in both World Wars and the conflicts since then. We remember those in the armed forces who gave their lives, as well as the families affected, whose lives were devastated, and those left with physical and emotional scars.

As we remember, we must recognise that peace cannot be taken for granted. We need to consider what we can do to build understanding and peace, challenging prejudice, hatred and division. We can make space to reflect and pray, and commit ourselves to being people of peace and kindness in our communities.

As we remember those who gave their tomorrow for our today, we should ask God to show us how to build a peaceful tomorrow.

Catherine Hilton

In this month of remembrance, we share some thoughts from Alan Spencer.

The Boer War 1899-1902

I vividly remember as a very small boy sitting in the bottom of a newly dug grave in the church yard, listening to two old men complaining that the army issued them with bowls not mugs. They also were not happy that the uniform was changed from a bright red to a dirty grey.

First World War 1914-1918

My father volunteered along with his friend who was a chemist and joined the Royal Army Medical Corps and was sent to the 44 Mobile Hospital at Doolally on the North West Frontier. I asked him what he had learned during his time there. His answer was that he had learned to ride a bicycle up steps to bungalows to deliver drugs to the wards. He was also taken aback by the poverty of the local people.

Second World War 1939-1945

My uncle who was a territorial was sent to France at the outset of war. Very soon he was involved in the retreat to Dunkirk. They were ordered to decommission their transport and walk the last 10 miles to the beach. It took seven days on the beach under fire before they were picked up by one of the flotilla of boats.

On D-Day Phase Three he returned to France this time with the Royal Tank Regiment as a tankmaster on route to Berlin. His motto was "Don't join the infantry but a mobile unit."

So many years later I joined the Royal Horse Artillery although fortunately, not in war time.

Sorry but……

A message from the 3rd Thursday Lunch Crew

It is with regret we have to say that the lunch on November 19th will be the last one for this year. There will be no lunch in December. Unfortunately, despite appearances, we are not as young and spritely as we might seem to be; and we are getting rather short of pairs of hands who can step in to help run our lunch service. We do really appreciate the help which we do get for after lunch, table putting away and the washing up etc. However, it is the food preparation and serving up which calls for us all to be on our feet and giving everything our attention for up to three hours which at times can feel like an endurance test! The December (Christmas) lunch is particularly demanding and, after much thought, we have decided that we have to cancel so as to give ourselves a break and then look into next year, as we review the situation. We will keep you posted on the situation for 2027.
Thank you for your support and understanding.

Carols@Christ Church

In both churches Carol Services will be held on the Sunday before Christmas – 6.30pm on 20th December.

Everyone is warmly invited to join a FESTIVE CHOIR at Christ Church and sing a special item during the service - no previous choir experience is needed, and one or two practices will give us all confidence.

If you are interested, please let Geoff Stokes know or email all.ccwalmersleybury@outlook.com.

Pondering

I was thinking and pondering again how people today have all the technology to do all sorts of things with just one device. I am writing this with my phone on spellcheck because I am bad at spelling, so that is a good thing for me. But then are we on the phone, laptop, I-pad, scrolling social media streaming services too much?

Is convenience or even just progress almost invariably about avoiding dealing with other people? Does socialising take more effort than scrolling? Is life becoming more insular so we can't be bothered socialising?

Well Jesus was always talking to people and always with a crowd of people: teaching, healing, socialising, having the human touch. So let us be more like Jesus and make the effort. To put down the phone, shut the laptop, take the earbuds out, headphones off, turn off the TV. Let's get out and socialise, come to church and talk to people. And just maybe Jesus will talk to you.

CHRISTINGLE TOY APPEAL

If you are intending to be at the Christingle Service at St. John with St. Mark on Wednesday 2nd December, we are aiming to collect toys for the Bury Churches Together toy appeal. Donations of new and unopened toys and games, with original packaging intact, would be welcome. Please consider the appropriateness of the toy as well. If you are unable to attend the service, then you may also bring to Church before the event and we will ensure they are passed on.

Quiet Moments for November

2nd November is All Souls' Day. Here is a prayer to offer comfort as we remember those who we still miss:

Eternal Light, as we gather in remembrance, may we feel the warmth of your love enveloping us. Help us to honour our loved one's legacy by living fully, embracing joy even in our sorrow. Teach us to share our hearts openly, recognising that vulnerability is a strength. As we lift our prayers to you, may we grow in compassion for ourselves and each other, finding moments of peace amid the waves of grief that come and go.

In this period of remembrance, a prayer for the Church to be a voice of reconciliation, written by Agnes Ncaagane of Central Africa

Heavenly Father,
you are the God of peace.
Have mercy upon this world, torn by conflict, hatred and injustice. Bring your healing power to broken places. Let your Spirit hover over the chaos, as you did in the beginning. Once again bring light out of darkness, peace out of turmoil.
Awaken your Church to her role as a voice of reconciliation. May we walk in unity and not division, in humility and not pride, in love and not judgement. Let us be known not for our denomination, tradition or buildings, but for our love for one another and our pursuit of peace.
Amen

Lighting the Way: Mothers' Union

19th November marks international Men's Day:

Lord, I ask You to break every generational curse affecting men today. Destroy every pattern of failure, addiction, and limitation in their lives. Rewrite their story by Your power and establish new blessings in their future. Let freedom, healing, and restoration flow through their families. Raise them into a new identity rooted in Christ and surround them with Your favour and peace. Amen.

25 November to 10 December is a global campaign to raise awareness of gender-based violence – The 16 Days of Activism
During their lifetime, One in Three women will experience violence, mainly from a close family member, compared with around 1 in 10 men.

A Woman's Psalm

O God, I am a woman in a violent world let me know your peace.
Let blind rage born of despair not find its target in me.
Let the value of my life not be reduced to the jewellery I wear.
Let my family life not end that life in a gang may begin.
Let rape not violate my body nor anger ravage my soul.
Let fear not enter my heart but caution sharpen my mind.
Let the light of Christ so shine in me that I may reflect your love.
Let the joy that the apostles knew infuse my spirit and alleviate my pain.
Let Love who suffered and died on the cross find resurrection and new life in the world you love.
O God, I am a woman in a violent world let me know your peace.

Emma King received a small but warm welcome (sadly several members were ill) as she led us in a "Cozy Corner Retreat". We learnt a little about aromatherapy as we tried to guess the component parts of oils being passed around. Then Emma showed us how to give ourselves a hand massage before taking us on a very relaxing reflection.

Bury Cine Society has recently updated its name to Bury Movie Makers and we welcomed Philip Openshaw and his friend John who had put together a compilation of Walmersley, Bury and Ramsbottom in the 50s and 60s, reviving memories for many. For others, more recently settled in Walmersley, it was interesting and revealing. Geoff Hamilton made an appearance too, describing all the scarecrows at this year's festival. An excellent afternoon enjoyed by many.

Diocesan Council met at St John's House (so convenient for us!), in its new ground floor meeting room, easily accessible for everyone. The morning began with worship led by chaplain Kirsty Screeton, John Sharp took us through the necessary but brief AGM and the rest of the day was co-ordinated and led by two of our trustees – Rosemary Taylor and Catherine Hilton. There were three sections, as used a few weeks ago in our retreat. The trustees have decided to carry this into 2027.

- Looking Inward - sharing all that has been happening in this 150th year
- Looking Outward - hearing from members of the diocesan staff how we can be involved around the diocese (and that is a two-way partnership)
- Looking Forward – what are the challenges and how do we meet them in order that we continue to grow and support, with prayer at the heart of all we do

Midday and closing prayers were led by Catherine.

In November we welcome everyone to either of our meetings, both at 2pm on Wednesdays in the Hall at Christ Church.

On 4th we welcome the Revd Paul Sanderson to preside at Holy Communion, during which we shall admit new members – including Paul. Do please come and support them.

Our speaker on 18th will be the Revd Ellise O'Hara. Ellise is serving her curacy in Kirklees and Woolfold and was priested this summer. She will be talking about her interesting journey to this point in her life.

Thank you to those who donated reading glasses for one of our outreach projects in Manchester. These go mainly to the men in HMP Forest Bank and make a huge difference. It is an ongoing need we have been working to meet for several years and last month's appeal was simply a response to Prisons Week – an ecumenical call to all Christians to pray not only for those in prison but for all who are affected by imprisonment. Mothers' Union in Manchester also supports the charity 'Out There', working with the families finding life difficult with a spouse or parent in prison.

Our Deanery Leader, Tricia Stokes, has suggested that we support Red Door this Christmas. There are more details on page 27. If you feel able to support this appeal, please bring donations to church. Our 'Kenyan basket' will be at the back of Christ Church to receive them and I am sure that any taken to St. John with St. Mark will be passed on.

Our Deanery Advent Service will be held on Sunday, 6th December at Emmanuel Church Centre, Longsight Rd, Bury, BL8 4DB. We usually have very strong representation from Christ Church, so please make a note of the date now.

If you would like to know more about the work of Mothers' Union please speak to any of our committee members:
Claire Altham, Denise Booth, Belinda Leung, Joan Riggs, Barbara Silvester, Bob Taylor.

Barbara Taylor,
Branch Secretary

Men (and ladies) of the Benefice

The group met on Monday 28th September at Hark to Dandler for the usual mix of chat and light-hearted banter. We were entertained by John Brennan arriving a little later than planned after picking up the 487 bus on Salford Street and it taking him in the opposite direction towards Bury Interchange! He was subsequently met by Alan Thew, who was going in the correct direction.
Thank you also to those who have offered lifts to and from our meetings recently, which is greatly appreciated if it is a late night.

It is expected we would meet on 26th October and our next scheduled meeting is on Monday 30th November at the Hark to Dandler at 8.00pm.

Open Group

We met on Wednesday 14th October for an opportunity to discuss some of the possessions and places that were dear to us. This developed from a recent conversation as to what we do with long held possessions which suddenly become damaged or worse for wear. Do we just discard them or do a 'Repair Shop' style job of restoration? There was a mixed response to this, with some preferring to throw and others opting to patch up. There were a few items brought along including a near 50-year-old toy monkey, a pop-up model with postcards of a gothic cathedral and some holiday storybooks. A school photograph was also brought along and we had to 'guess who'.

The second part of the session was on places and I spoke briefly about Leake Parish Church in Thirsk, which I had passed recently, how some buildings act as landmarks and you are drawn to them by their architecture and history. We discussed other Churches and Cathedrals which we enjoy visiting and then some of us spoke about holidays. Russia and New Zealand were two of the places visited by us over the years, both of which were extremely welcoming and friendly with great stories of food and trips.

The overall feeling was that both possessions and places help us to retain memories which last for ever, even if the possession itself cannot. Thanks to all who contributed.

Next month, Reverend Paul Sanderson will lead an illustrated talk on Canterbury Walks. All are welcome on Wednesday 11th November at 7.30pm in the Barritt Room.
